

HOW TO USE UNIFROG TO INVESTIGATE YOUR NEXT STEPS AFTER COLLEGE

RESEARCH IS THE KEY TO SUCCESS!

Universities will be looking for specific entry requirements this may include subjects taken as well as grades achieved.

Some international students may need to apply through international offices or agents attached to universities for certain courses.

Some courses have limits on the number of international students they can accept you must research before you apply.

To get started using the tools now, take the personality profile

The image displays a grid of five tool buttons, each with a checkmark icon and a 'Go to tool' or 'Start' button. A large red arrow points from a red text box on the right to the 'Personality profile' button.

MOOC	Make your first shortlist	Start >
Personality profile	✓ Quiz completed: ISFJ	Start >

The quiz only takes a few minutes to take and generates results which indicate which types of course or jobs you might be suited to, based on your personality 'type'.

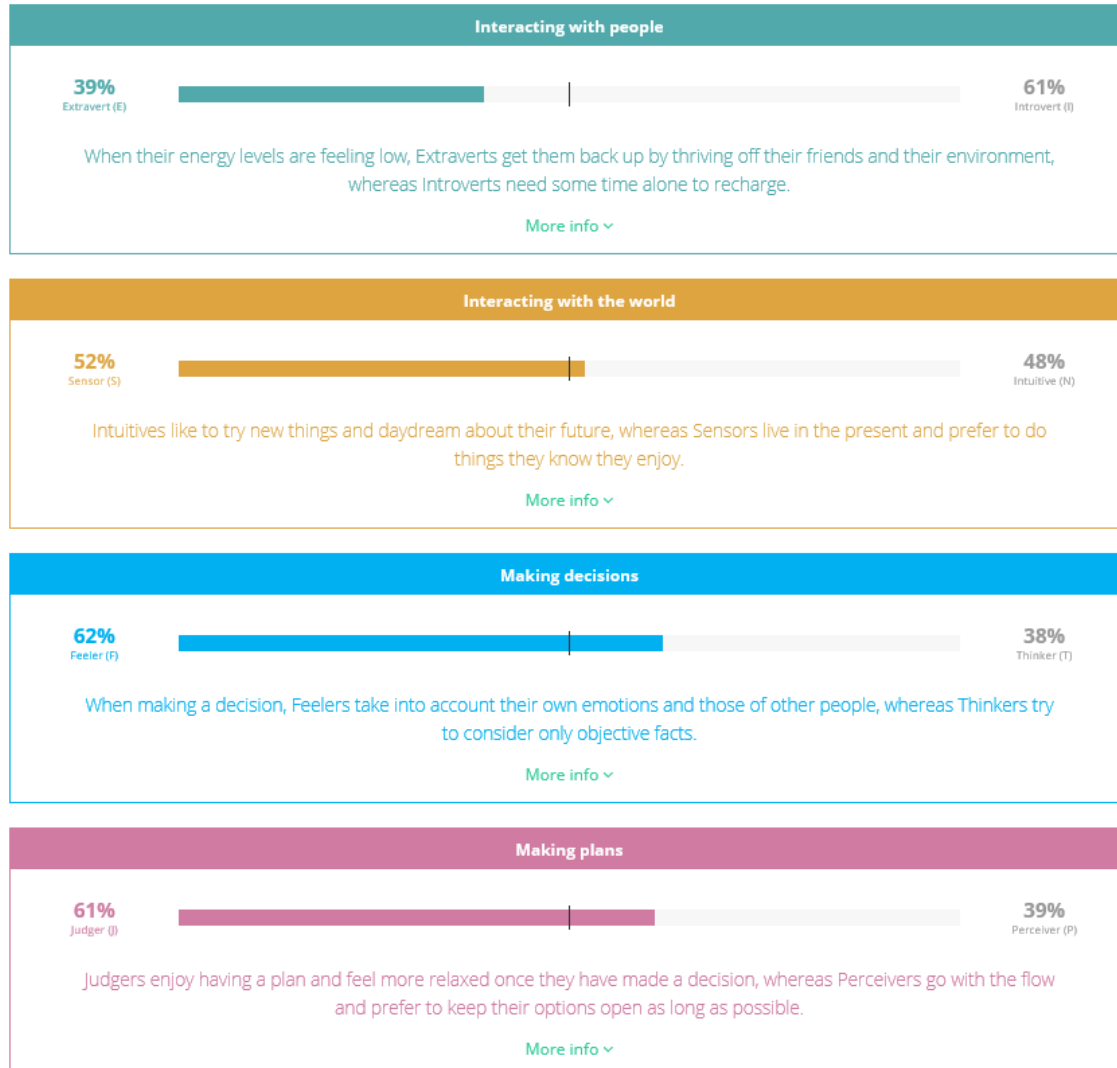

The personality questionnaire will help enhance your choice of subjects after college, increase your opportunities and help with eventual university and apprenticeship applications or job searches. When you access the careers library on UNIFROG you can see jobs grouped against your personality and own personal filters.

The quiz assesses you against 4 personality scales:

- 1) Interacting with people
- 2) Interacting with the world
- 3) Making decisions
- 4) Making plans

The image here shows where you fall on each of the scales.

The quiz then informs you which is your closest personality type and which are other close matches

Your closest personality type

Like all of our personality type descriptions, this is an archetype. Depending on where you fall on each of the four scales, you might recognise yourself in more than one type - this can also change as you get older, or even depending on your mood or the situation. Also, two people with the same closest personality type can seem very different depending on things like their environment, values or interests. This description is a fun read that should encourage you to consider your skills from a new angle, and might teach you a few things about yourself - enjoy!

ISFJ - Midwife toad

Supportive friends who always remember little details about the people important to them. More ▾

Search Careers library for ISFJ >

You can then click on 'Search Careers Library' to find a wide range of careers that suit your personality type.

You can continue to search in your own time during your time at Collyer's.

Other close matches

Because of where you land on the four scales, you might also recognise yourself in these types.

INFJ - Fire-bellied toad

Reserved idealists who become passionate when speaking about topics close to their heart. More ▾

Search Careers library for INFJ >

Have a go for yourself now and find out your personality type!

- Your results are automatically saved on the Unifrog platform.
- You will use these in future tutorial sessions as a basis for further careers searches.
- Why wait? You can continue to search in your own time whenever you want to.....
- Unifrog suggests for the most useful results take the test every 6 months. As you progress through college and life, your personality changes. You may find that the jobs most suited to you at the start are not the best for you by the time you leave Collyer's.

What follows are some example pages from unifrog it draws information from all the recommended progression sites and unifies this all into one very accessible pdf format this is saveable and downloadable and will automatically email itself to you at the end of each session! Give it ago you will love it
