Established almost 500 years ago, the College of Richard Collyer is forward thinking in every way. Our mission is simple: to deliver the best possible education to our 2,200 + students aged 16 to 19, and our achievements speak for themselves – In 2022 the A level high grade rate (A*-B) was 71%. Results across our other course types such as vocational, technical, transition and GCSE are equally strong.

A great college deserves a great location: we're close to the centre of the historic market town of Horsham and under an hour from London by train. We're a supportive community rather than just a place to work, and we are deeply committed to the professional development of our staff.

Staff are encouraged and expected to share materials for teaching and assessment. The course is currently within its third year of teaching and is anticipated to continue to develop as a popular subject with circa 400 students.

Members of the teaching staff are also personal tutors. Tutors monitor progress and offer support and guidance to twenty-five students. The ability to contribute to the enrichment programme would also be welcome.
